Dear Marc,

Our students thoroughly enjoyed your performance last week. The students were entertained but what was very gratifying to me as an administrator was that the young people were spellbound during your inspirational message as well as during your feats of strength and humorous comments. What a great way to grab the attention of this age group.

The emphasis on reaching ones dreams and being kind to others was exactly what I hoped you would cover at a beginning of the year assembly. Your personal story was moving and helped the students identify with their own struggles in a very real way. You are a role model to the young and we wish you the very best in your career as you continue to motivate our children.

Sincerely yours,
